

Roosevelt Neighborhood Values

Roosevelt High School is a Landmark building, and has a central impact on the visual character of the neighborhood, the views of which, from the high school to the south, and views of the high school from the surrounding streets, are of great importance to the community.

There is strong need to create a safe environment for the students coming and going through this area.

There is a need to increase residential density to accommodate a fair share of new residents, and provide a fair share of affordable housing.

There is strong desire to create a streetscape environment that is activated, vibrant, walkable and pedestrian-friendly, including a pedestrian greenway along NE 66th Street.

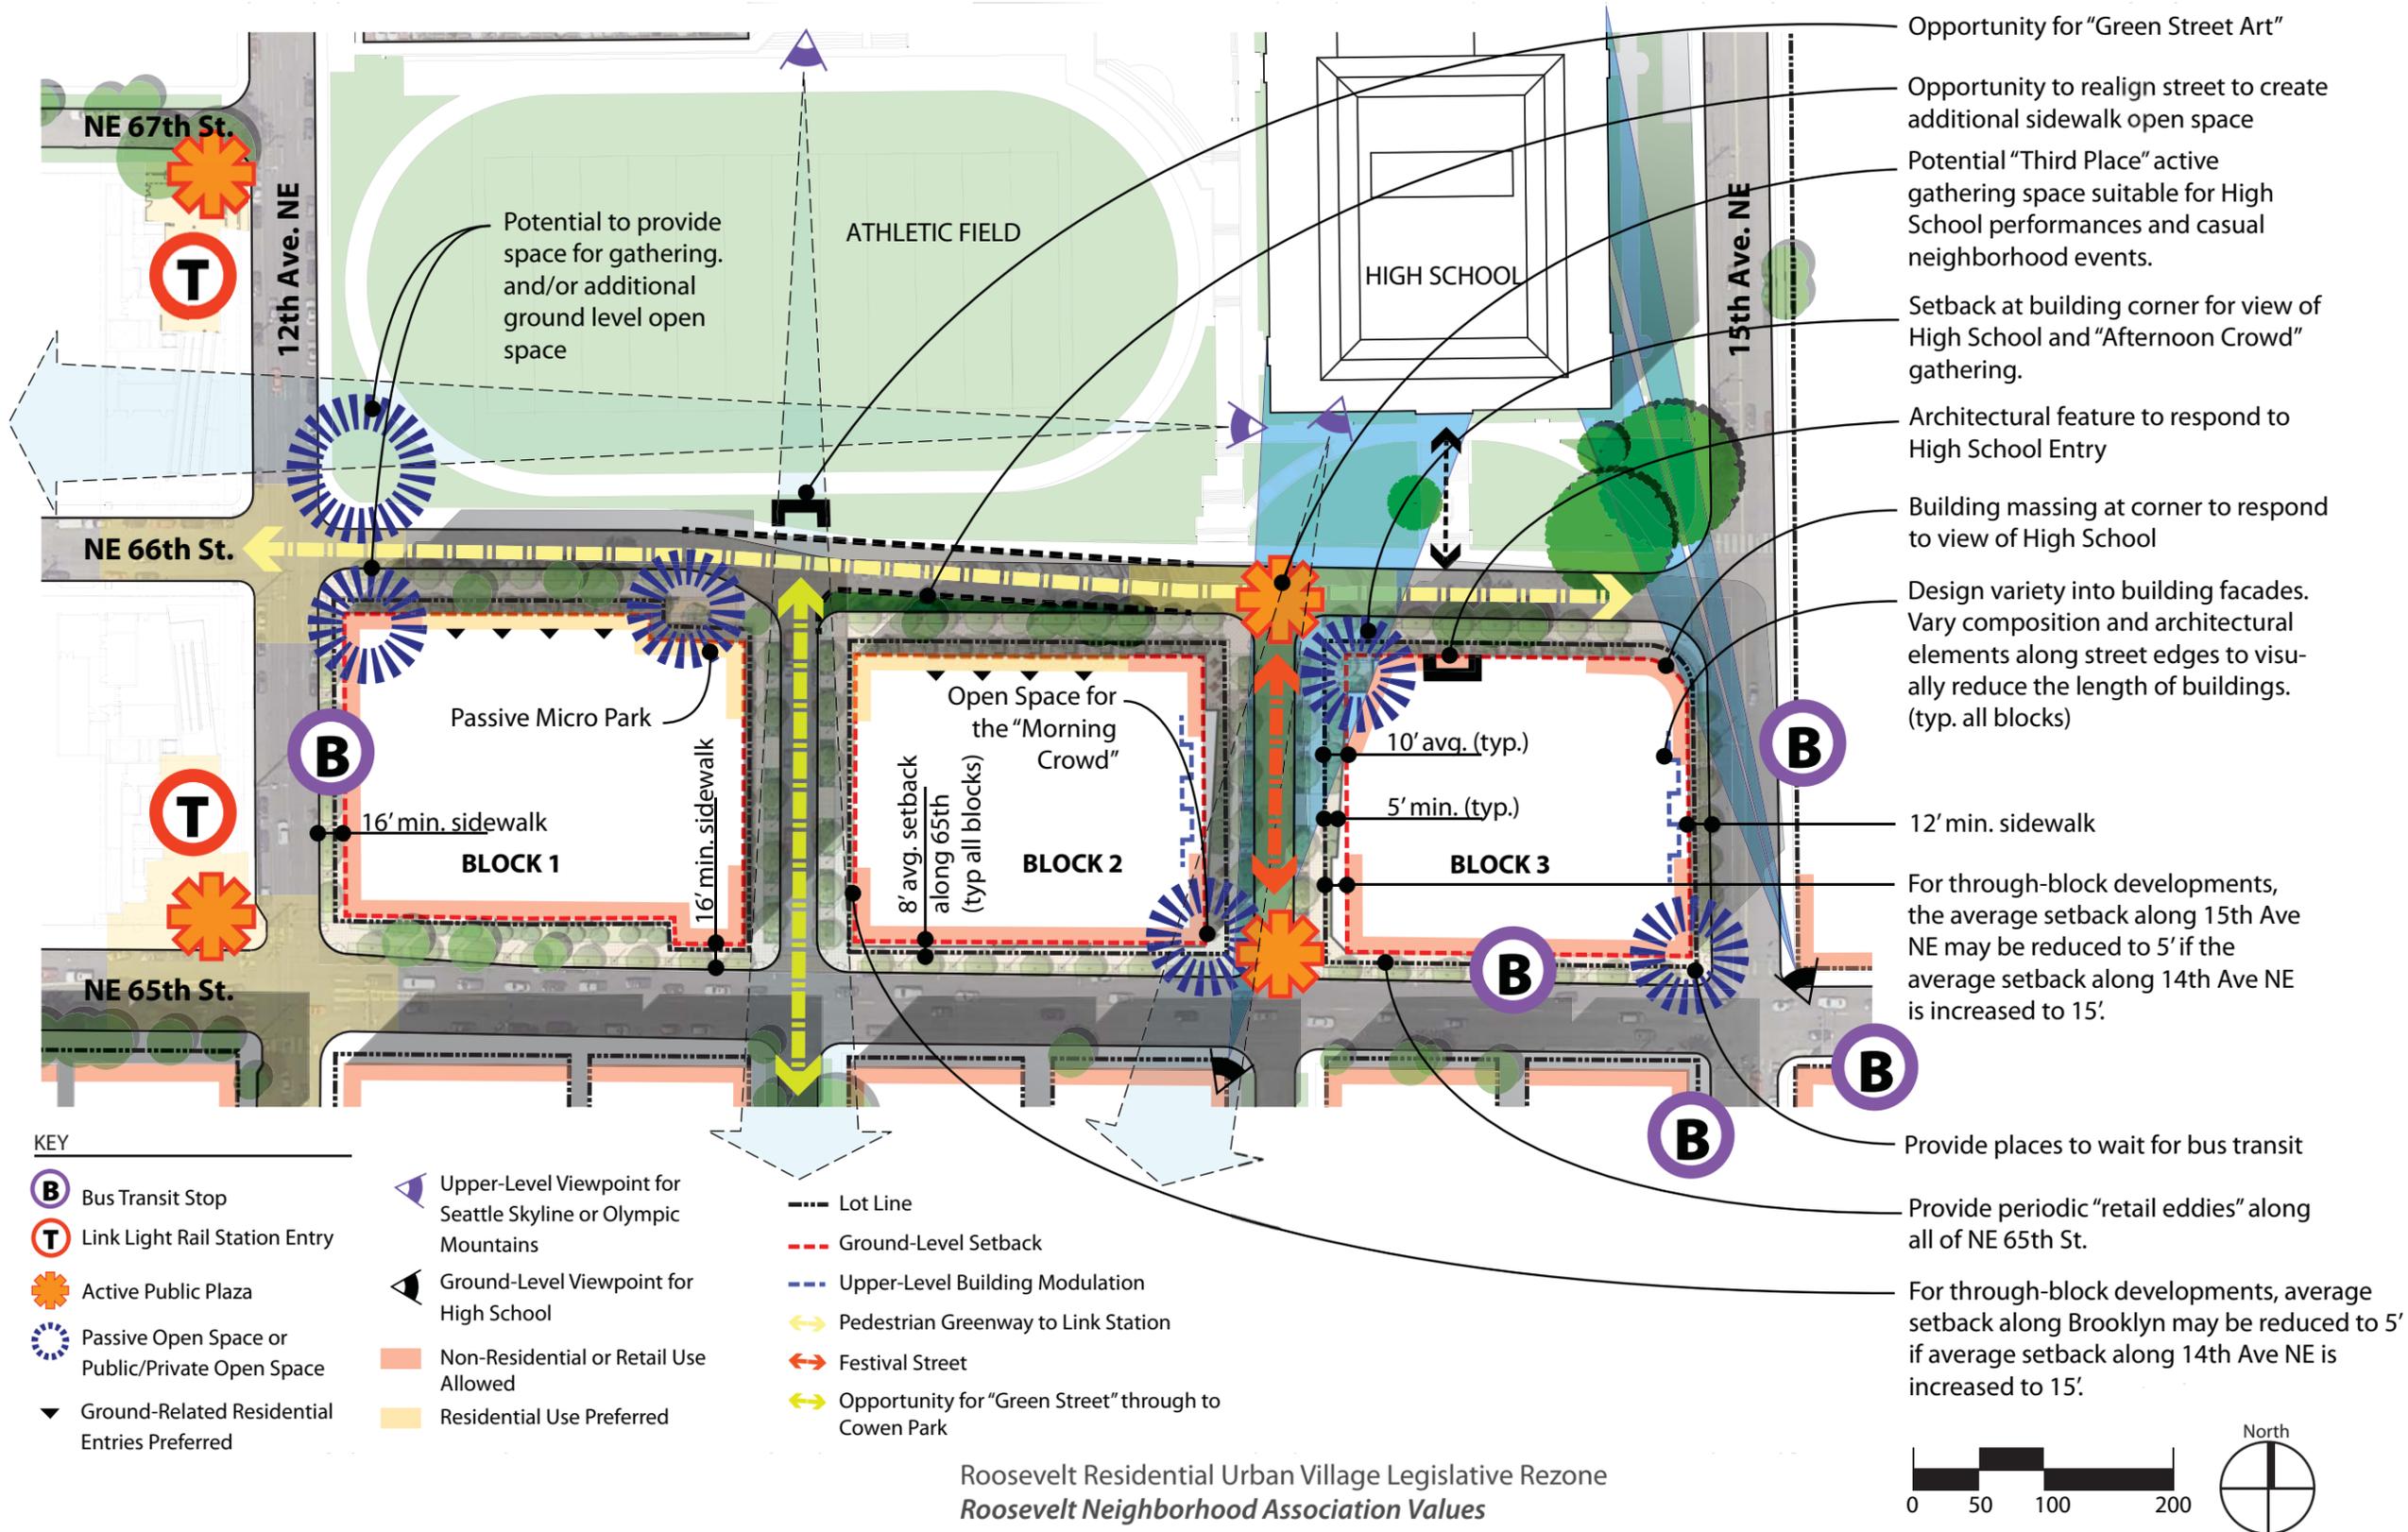

There is a need to create effective transitions from the neighborhood core centered at 65th Street and Roosevelt Avenue to the single-family zones to the east, north, and south of the blocks in question.

There is a GAP in Open Space for this neighborhood, as outlined by Seattle Parks and Recreation.

The Roosevelt Neighborhood is designated as an "Urban Village" in accordance with the City of Seattle neighborhood village typologies and with the characteristics that this designation implies.
